Poemas de Edgar Allan Poe publicados em jornais de língua inglesa: novas anotações bibliográficas

Poems by Edgar Allan Poe published in English language journals: new bibliographical notes

©Helciclever Barros da Silva Vitoriano (UnB)[1]

Em comemoração aos duzentos e dez anos de nascimento de Edgar Allan Poe, completados exatamente hoje, 19 de janeiro de 2019, tenho a satisfação de apresentar o rol abaixo de publicações em jornais de língua inglesa de vários de seus poemas ainda não anotadas por outras pesquisas. Com os significativos avanços tecnológicos que vem propiciando aos repositórios de diversas instituições realizarem a digitalização de suas hemerotecas, hoje é possível ampliar as referências dos textos literários publicados nos jornais ao longo dos séculos. Neste artigo, o objetivo é documentar avanços importantes sobre as reproduções da poesia de Edgar Allan Poe nos jornais de língua inglesa, principalmente em seu país de origem, EUA, e também, no Canadá, Reino Unido, Austrália e Nova Zelândia. Este esforço aqui registrado intenta complementar os importantes trabalhos de CAMPBELL (1917), ROBERTSON (1921), HEARTMAN; CANNY (1943), O'NEILL (1946), MABBOTT (1943, 1969), e TANSELLE (1963), MONTEIRO (2010b), TON FAFIANIE, entre outros, assim como a reunião destes estudos que foi feita pela The Edgar Allan Poe Society of Baltimore[2], de maneira que as novas informações que apresento abaixo representam uma contribuição a vários outros estudos na mesma direção. Em se tratando de reimpressões dos poemas de Edgar Allan Poe nos jornais de língua inglesa, “Annabel Lee” parece ter sido o mais publicado, contando com nada menos que 670, das quais estou apresentando 602 novas entradas bibliográficas, conforme se verá abaixo.

In commemoration of Edgar Allan Poe's two hundred and ten years of birth, completed exactly today, January 19, 2019, I am pleased to present a new roll of publications in English-language journals of several of his poems not yet noted by other researches. With the significant technological advances that have made it possible that the repositories of several institutions to digitize their newspaper archives, it is now possible to expand the references of literary texts published in the newspapers over the centuries. In this work, the goal is to document important advances about the reproductions of Edgar Allan Poe's poetry in English-language newspapers, mainly in your country of origin, USA, as well as in Canada, the United Kingdom and Australia and New Zealand. This effort here is intended to complement the important works of CAMPBELL (1917), ROBERTSON (1921), HEARTMAN; O'Neill (1943), O'NEILL (1946), MABBOTT (1943, 1969), and TANSELLE (1963), MONTEIRO (2010b), TON FAFIANIE, among others, as well as the gathering of these studies by The Edgar Allan Poe Society of Baltimore. So the new information I present below represents a contribution to several other studies in the same direction made in the past without the technological conditions of today. As for reprints of Edgar Allan Poe's poems in the English-language newspapers, "Annabel Lee" seems to have been the most published, counting with no less than 670, of which I am presenting 602 new bibliographical entries, as will be seen below.

"To Isadore" (?)

"(This poem, which does not appear in any of Poe's published works, was given to the editor of the Index Santa Barbara, Cal, by his cousin, Mrs. T. A. Poe.)"

(Poema atribuído a Poe, mas que carece de confirmações de autoria)

"Four poems signed "A. M. Ide" were published in the Broadway Journal in 1845. John H. Ingram thought "A. M. Ide" might be a pen name of Poe, and reprinted three of these four poems as possibly Poe's in The Complete Poetical Works ... of Edgar Allan Poe (1888) — but Abijah M. Ide was a young New Englander who corresponded with Poe and with J. R. Lowell and wrote for the Columbian Magazine in 1844 and 1845. In 1865 he was an editor of the Gazette, in Taunton, Massachusetts. His poems in the Broadway Journal are: (70) "The Village Street" (September 13, 1845), (71) "The Forest Reverie" (September 27), (72) "To Isadore" (October 25), and (73) "Annette" (December 6)". “The Sea of Serenity” (?)

(Poema atribuído a Poe, mas que carece de confirmações de autoria)

““The Sea of Serenity,” sixty lines beginning “From the Mountains of the Moon,” was printed as Poe’s in the literary supplement of the San Francisco Examiner on March 12, 1899. The author, Herman Scheffauer, was induced by Ambrose Bierce to publish it as a joke on James Whitcomb Riley, who was lecturing in California. See Carroll Douglas Hall, Bierce and the Poe Hoax (San Francisco, 1934)”.
